Director of Strategic Planning

During the year, I reviewed the organisation and running of the Karnak Show.

Kim Dunnet-Smith prepared a written explanation outlining how the show would be conducted. This information was shared on Facebook so that all members had the opportunity to read it and understand the arrangements. Some members raised questions regarding the grouping arrangements, which were addressed.

The show itself went extremely well, with both overseas and New Zealand judges participating. It was a successful event and provided valuable judging experience.

The appointment of judges was also reviewed. A suggestion was made that, where possible, we aim to secure an overseas judge for each show in the future.

The constitution was revised in 2025.
